

Real Damage Frank Turner

(G) I woke up on a sofa in an unfamiliar house,
(C) Surrounded by sleeping folks I didn't (G) know
(D) On failing to find my friends
I (Am) decided that it was (C) clearly time to (G)go (D)*(G)

(G) So I made my way out of the door as quietly as I could –
(C) there was no one there I knew to say (G) goodbye,
(D) Squinting in the sadly sobering (C) sunshine
(Am) Of the Sunday morning (G) light.(D)*(G)

I (C) started the night with all my friends and I (Am) ended up alone
OH yes, I (G) started out so (D) happy
now I'm (C) hung over and down
it was (D) about then that I realised
(Am) I was halfway through the (C) best years of my (G) life (D)*(G)

(G) I scanned the local landmarks, trying to find out where I was,
(C) And maybe even find a bus back (G)home,
I was (D) Longing for a shower, and for (C) clean sheets,
(Am) And a charger for my (G) phone.(D)*(G)

(G) Suddenly it hit me - I got paid this Friday last,
(C) and so I rifled through my pockets for some (G) change.
(D) But all I found was a packet of broken (C) cigarettes
(Am) and a sinking sense of (G) shame.(D)*(G)

I (C) started the night with all my friends and I (Am) ended up alone
Oh yes, I (G) started out so (D) happy
now I'm (C) hung over and down
it was (D) about then that I realised
(Am) I was halfway through the (C) best years of my (G) life

I had to ask myself:

Is it really (C) worth it?

(G) Is (D) any of this (C) worth it?

(G) Well the (D) whole thing's far from (C) perfect,

But I've (Am) yet to figure (C) out a better way to spend (D) my time.

(Cadd9) (Aadd9)

(G) Too many suits and dirty looks made me rack my brains –

(C) the real damage started to sink (G) in.

(D) It'd been quite a heavy weekend

(Am) and I could just about re(C) member where I'd (G)

been.(D)*(G)

Well I (C) started the night with all my friends

and I (Am) ended up alone,

I (G) started out so (D) happy

now I'm (C) hung-over and down.

I (D) stood on a street corner and I felt a little sick.

It was (D) about then that I realized (Am) I was halfway through the

(C) first day of the (G) week.(D)*(G)
